"The Cortland Country Club was heavily damaged last year when storms raged through the Central New York area. We relied on Bailey Place Insurance to help us get back on track. We had over 100 trees down all over our course, and damage to our buildings. Insurance for golf courses is unique, but we had the right coverages in place thanks to our knowledgeable agents. We were able to clean up the trees, fix the damages and make repairs to our fairways and greens as well. Working with a local agent that knew our exposures made all the difference."

— Ernie Dodge, Cortland Country Club President

Female Senior Leadership Award

Olivia Genson, Moravia

Olivia Genson is a three-sport athlete at Moravia who has been the textbook definition of being a leader in her school and community. Olivia excelled on the course for cross country, making three consecutive trips to the state meet. During the basketball season, Olivia led the Blue Devils to back-to-back IAC championships and played a key part of their state championship team her junior year. Olivia is also a member of the outdoor track and field team. Olivia has also shined in the classroom as the class valedictorian, graduating with a weighted GPA of 98.86 and earning an Advanced Regents Diploma with Honors and a Science Distinction. She is a three-year member of the Section IV Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) and is the president of the local SAAC at Moravia. She is also the president of the school's National Honor Society and a member of the student government. Olivia has given back to the community in many ways, including volunteering regularly at Saturday morning youth events and serving as a role model for younger students. Olivia will be attending the University of Rochester to study biology or biomedical engineering and pursue a career in the military or as a government employee.

Male Senior Leadership Award

Greg Taylor, Newfield

Greg Taylor is a three-sport athlete at Newfield who has exemplified tremendous leadership both on and off the field. He was a team captain for soccer, basketball, and outdoor track & field, earning multiple IAC All-Star honors across all three sports and helped the Trojans basketball team win the Class C state championship his freshman year. Greg excelled in the classroom as the class valedictorian, graduating with a 98.98 GPA. Outside of sports, Greg was heavily involved in other extracurricular activities, including being a member of the Travel Club and Sources of Strength Suicide Prevention Club. He was also an officer in the Newfield chapter of the National Honor Society and served as the Newfield representative to the Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Conference. Greg was also a very active volunteer in the community with the local food pantry. Greg will be attending the University of Virginia to earn a degree in Civil Engineering Studies.

Coach of the Year in a Girls Sport

Pam Quinlan, Candor

Volleyball

For as long as anyone can remember, Candor has been the cream of the crop when it comes to volleyball in the area, in large part thanks to Pam Quinlan. This year was no exception. The Coyotes won yet another IAC Small School Division title and an IAC Small School title. Their championship pedigree remained through in sectionals, capturing the Class D title for the second straight year (and the 13th title under Quinlan). They also made it back-to-back trips to the New York State Tournament after winning another regional championship, their 10th under Quinlan. After getting through pool play, Candor faced Ellicottville in the championship. The Coyotes fought back from 1-0 and 2-1 deficits and eventually came out on top in a five-set thriller to capture its fourth state title (all under Quinlan) and their first since 2019. Candor finished with a 16-1 overall record. Four players received All-State nods, and Quinlan was named the Section IV Coach of the Year.

Coach of the Year in a Boys Sport

Zack LeViere, Dryden
Boys Basketball

It was an unforgettable year for the Dryden boys basketball team, led by head coach Zack LeViere. The Lions clawed their way through the regular season en route to their first IAC North Large Division title since 2022. Their dominance continued in the postseason, where the Lions made plenty of history. In the IAC Large School championship, Dryden took down Elmira-Notre Dame in a thriller at nearby Tompkins Cortland Community College to capture its first IAC crown since 1986. Dryden entered the Section IV Class B tournament as the top seed, but it wouldn't be easy facing a pair of STAC opponents. In the semifinals, the Lions defeated Chenango Forks. Then at the Visions Veterans Memorial Arena, Dryden took down the defending champions Waverly to win their first-ever Section IV title and subsequently their first trip to the New York State Tournament. The Lions finished with a 19-4 overall record and had three players earn All-State honors. For his invaluable part in Dryden's historic season, LeViere was named the Section IV Class B Coach of the Year.

Female Scholar Athlete of the Year

Charli Bennett, Southern Cayuga

(Basketball, Outdoor Track & Field, Swimming)

Charli Bennett will undoubtedly go down as one of the greatest basketball players to grace the Southern Cayuga court. In a varsity career that spans back to seventh grade, Charli's senior season was another special one. After missing a chunk of last season due to a torn ACL and MCL, Charli bounced back brilliantly, averaging 23.3 points per game and recording a double-double nearly every night. Charli was a Class C All-State First Team selection, the Section IV Class C Player of the Year, and the IAC North Small Division MVP, among many other accolades. She ends her illustrious career on the court as the program's all-time leading scorer with well over 1,000 career points, a three-time All-State selection, a three-time Section IV All-Star, a four-time IAC All-Star, and a two-time IAC MVP.

Charli also starred on the track this spring, winning the Section IV and IAC Small School title in the 400-meter dash. She also qualified for states and won the IAC overall title in the 400-meter hurdles and helped the Chiefs win the IAC Small School Championship. Charli was also a part of the swimming & diving team, where placed second in the 50 free and the 100 fly. Charli will be attending SUNY Cortland to study business and continue her basketball career.

Male Scholar Athlete of the Year

Joe Baylor, Moravia

(Football, Basketball, Outdoor Track & Field)

It was a comeback year for the ages for Moravia's Joe Baylor. After missing the football and basketball seasons last year with a torn ACL, MCL, and meniscus, Joe flat-out dominated upon his return to the gridiron and court. For football, Joe was the go-to target on offense, leading the team with 50 receptions, 1,008 yards and 17 touchdowns to help the Blue Devils make it back to the 8-man regional championship and earning a spot on the 8-man All-State First Team. Joe continued to be an unstoppable force once basketball season rolled around, putting on a show every time he stepped onto the court with his elite scoring ability and a myriad of slam dunks. He averaged 25 points, 9.3 rebounds, and 3.3 assists per game to lead the Blue Devils to a fourth straight IAC championship, a three-peat of sectional titles, and a third straight trip to the state semifinals. He was selected as the IAC North Small Division MVP and Section IV Class C Player of the Year and earned First Team All-State honors. He ends his basketball career as part of the 1,000-point club. Joe wrapped up his sensational year by taking the state by storm in the high jump. He won the IAC title in the event and capped off his illustrious high school career on the highest of notes with a Class C state title.
